Whooo's Coming to Visit

WildCare is a hospital that takes care of sick or hurt animals. These animals come from all different types of wild homes, or habitats. Habitats are like deserts, meadows, forests, or ponds. Animals can have special features on them, called adaptations, to help them survive in their habitat. Adaptations are like webbed feet, big wings, or bushy tails. Not every animal can survive in the same home because of these different adaptations.

Draw a line to match the animal to its habitat.
